

The seventh International Rail Forum & Conference IRFC 2022 will be taking place in Prague on 5th to 7th October, 2022 with the central theme “Let’s Build a New Generation of Railway Together”. The conference has received an Office of the Government of the Czech Republic patronage in relation to the Czech presidency of the Council of the EU in 2022 and was selected to be included into the calendar of accompanying events of the Czech presidency. The organizer of this important event is the OLTIS Group company.

The conference is divided into five expert technical sessions and there is going to be the opportunity to attend an exciting technical visit with an intriguing programme. Technical sessions are focused on the most important areas for the rail sector from strategic, technical, research and innovation, and infrastructure points of view. Each session includes a moderated discussion at the end. Every participant can therefore expect a rich programme presented by high level experts, and the chance to meet notable representatives from the rail sector of Czechia and the EU.

The conference programme brings new and up-to-date information from the rail sector in an international context. IRFC 2022 is going to host not only representatives of major institutions from all over Europe and the expert community, but also top managers and experts from the rail sector and logistics.

The organizer greatly appreciates excellent cooperation with EU institutions, namely the European Commission, European Parliament, European Union Agency for Railways (ERA), European Climate, Infrastructure and Environment Executive Agency (CINEA), and EUROPE’s Rail JU. This cooperation has helped in forming an interesting and diverse programme with distinguished speakers.

IRFC 2022 continues the extraordinary success of previous years and promises a better, deeper cooperation in the international rail sector.

Additional, up-to-date information about IRFC 2022, including the expert programme, overview of speakers, and online registration are published on the conference’s webpages www.irfc.eu.

IRFC 2022 conference offers a unique opportunity to meet key experts from the rail world.
